

4.2 Hotel accommodations - Roleplay

ROLEPLAY

Chris: Hi Mary, how are you?

Mary: Hi Chris. What can I help you with?

Chris: I'd like to speak with you about my business trip that I have coming up. My first question is about booking a hotel for my trip. Do you have a list of recommended hotels that I should choose from?

Mary: Yes. We have a partnership with several hotel chains that we prefer our employees to stay at on their business trips. Where are you traveling to?

Chris: I'm going to London and most of my scheduled events are close to the regional office, which is in the downtown area.

Mary: OK, just a moment. I've got three to choose from. I'm sending you a link now...

Chris: Got it!

Mary: The first one is really close to the office, actually. You wouldn't even need to take public transport - you could just walk!

Chris: That's convenient. Uh-oh, I see a potential problem - it says the business center is temporarily closed for renovations.

Mary: Well, you could work from your hotel room - it is a business suite, afterall.

Chris: That might not be too bad. It's still an option, but let's see what else you have.

Mary: Sounds good. Let's look at the second option. This one is a bit further away.

Chris: So I'd probably have to take the subway, then, right?

Mary: Yes, you definitely will.

Chris: Oh, great. This one has a business center. They also offer room service, but I think the aspect I love the most is that the entire building is smoke-free.

Mary: Yes, that's important to a lot of travelers.

Chris: And what about the third option?

Mary: This is the budget option and it's located rather far from the regional office.

Chris: Yes, you're right. Well, I was planning on renting a car anyway. I could drive to the office and to our client's office when I need to meet him.

Mary: It's included in the trip budget, so you might as well go for it.

Chris: Yeah, that makes sense. Oh - another thing just occurred to me - will I need an international driver license for the car rental?

Mary: No, your normal one will be sufficient.

Chris: OK. I'm going to take some time to consider the hotel options. But, I think a one-day car rental will be a good idea. How does that sound?

Mary: Sounds like a plan. I'll make the reservation and forward you all the relevant information so you can add it to your itinerary.

Chris: Thanks Mary. Oh, one last thing - I just remembered about the company credit card.

Mary: Of course. Here you are. Please, review the policy and don't forget to document all of your expenses.

Chris: Thanks for the reminders. I'll see you when I get back.

Mary: Good luck on your trip!
